Balance has been created by teachers and leaders who want to put children at the heart of assessment

No more levels, steps or bands.

Know exactly what your children have learnt and easily identify their next steps in learning

Pupils become actively involved in the learning process and understand more clearly their next steps. As a result of this, they make significant gains in their learning.

Pupils develop a better understanding of how they are doing and where they need to progress on a daily basis.

Simple and clear graphs show exactly where strengths and areas for development are.

Balance opens up conversations for teachers to coach children through misconceptions and next steps in learning

Balance[®]

Balance is bringing a revolution to the way teachers assess and evaluate children's learning.

Its unique approach to capturing learning makes it completely different from any other assessment tool.

For the first time, Balance truly brings formative and summative assessment together.

Teachers receive real information about their children's learning in a manner more tangible than before - keep track of areas to celebrate - and help those where a little more support is needed.

With Balance, teachers use our clear and progressive curriculum to know exactly where to focus their teaching.
